

FEEDBACK FORM RATING METHODOLOGY

Overview

This document defines the complete set of rules used to calculate the Counsellor Satisfaction Score from post-counselling feedback forms submitted by students and parents. Every counsellor's session-level score and overall performance band are derived solely from these rules. No manual override or subjective adjustment is applied at any stage.

The system combines student feedback (weighted 80%) and parent feedback (weighted 20%) across multiple sections, converts raw scores to percentages, applies section-level weights, and maps the final composite score to a Performance Band and Incentive payout.

Data Source

All scores feeding into the rating system are drawn from two independently completed post-counselling feedback forms.

Both forms must be completed for a session to be included in the counsellor's score. Incomplete pairs are excluded from all calculations.

Student Feedback Form	Parent Feedback Form
Contains 4 rated sections + 1 open feedback section.	Contains 5 rated sections + 1 open feedback section.
Each rated question uses a 1–5 integer scale.	Each rated question uses a 1–5 integer scale.
Open feedback (Section 5) is qualitative only — not scored.	Open feedback (Section 6) is qualitative only — not scored.

Rating Scale

All scored questions in both forms use the following 5-point integer scale.

Score	Label	Meaning
1	Very poor, not helpful	The respondent felt the session or outcome failed to deliver any meaningful value.
2	Below expectations	Some value was delivered but fell short of what the respondent expected.
3	Acceptable but not impressive	Met a minimum threshold but did not stand out in any meaningful way.
4	Good & met expectations	Delivered what was expected; the respondent is satisfied.
5	Excellent & beyond expectations	Exceeded expectations; the respondent was delighted with the outcome.

Score	Label	Meaning
1	Very unclear, not decided	The respondent has no clarity on the subject and has not been able to form any direction or decision.
2	Somewhat unclear with doubts	Some awareness exists but is clouded by significant doubts, leaving the respondent uncertain about direction.
3	Partly clear with some understanding	The respondent has a basic understanding and a general sense of direction, but gaps and unresolved questions remain.
4	Clear & good understanding	The respondent has a well-formed understanding with a reasonable direction in mind, though minor uncertainties may still exist.
5	Very clear & confident	The respondent has complete clarity, a definite direction, and the confidence to articulate and act on it.

Weightages

Each section of both forms is assigned a short code used throughout the rating system. Section codes follow the convention: prefix (S = Student, P = Parent), hyphen, two-letter section abbreviation.

Code	Student Section	Weight	Code	Parent Section	Weight
S-SE	Session Experience	25%	P-PE	Programme Effectiveness	15%
S-CD	Clarity & Decision Confidence	35%	P-CE	Counsellor Effectiveness	35%
S-OQ	Outcome Quality	30%	P-OA	Outcome & Alignment	30%
S-OS	Overall Satisfaction	10%	P-DC	Decision Confidence	10%
			P-RC	Recommendation	10%

The two forms carry different weights in determining the Final Score. This reflects the programme's design philosophy that the student's first-hand experience is the primary measure of counsellor quality.

Respondent	Form Weight	Rationale
Student Feedback Form	80%	Primary measure — student is the direct beneficiary of the counselling session.
Parent Feedback Form	20%	Secondary measure — parent perspective provides contextual validation.
TOTAL	100%

Calculation Steps :

1. Section Average = Sum of all question scores in section ÷ Number of questions in section
2. Section % = (Section Average ÷ 5) × 100
3. Student Score % = (S-SE% × 0.25) + (S-CD% × 0.35) + (S-OQ% × 0.30) + (S-OS% × 0.10)
4. Parent Score % = (P-PE% × 0.15) + (P-CE% × 0.35) + (P-OA% × 0.30) + (P-DC% × 0.10) + (P-RC% × 0.10)
5. Final Score % per Student = (Student Score % × 0.80) + (Parent Score % × 0.20)
6. Counsellor Overall Score % = Sum of all Student Session Final Score % values ÷ Total number of Student Sessions

The Final Score % is mapped to one of four Performance Bands. Each band carries a fixed incentive payout. Band boundaries are inclusive at the lower end and exclusive at the upper end, except for the top band which is fully inclusive.

Score Range	Performance Band	Incentive (₹)	Interpretation
90 – 100%	Top Performer	₹ 1,000	Consistently exceptional delivery
80 – 89%	Strong Performer	₹ 750	Strong, reliable performance
70 – 79%	Needs Improvement	₹ 500	Acceptable — targeted coaching required
< 70%	Critical	₹ 0	Immediate corrective action required
